CANADA'S COTTON DUTY.

PLATE A REDUCTION.

New York, April 20.-A Montreal dis-patch to the Evening Post says;

The Daminian Government contemplates a reduction in the cotion duties some time during this year. Under the Mackenzle government the duty was 17½ per cent, ad valorem on all cotions; under the succeeding Conservative government this was changed to a specific duty of 1 cent a sure yard on bleached and 2 cents on colored, beside an ad valorem duty. This excessive duty caused mills to spring un all over the country and presently it was reduced by Mr. Poster 22½, per cent, on gray and white, and 20 per cent, on printed dyed and colored. The present government, however, instead of further reducing the tariff, increased it to 25 per cent, on bleached and gray and colored, although it is a well known fact that cotions can be made in Canada as cheapily as in the Eastern States. It is true that the present turiff gives a preference to English goods of 25 per cent, making the actual duty on these goods 18% and 26½ per cent, respectively, but this preference is mare than offset by the extra cost of importing.
